Travel and work around the world and embark on a lifelong teaching career

Teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL) can be a rewarding career if you have the right training and a qualification that is internationally recognised.

CELTA offers you the opportunity to travel and work around the world and also a lifelong teaching career you can follow in the UK or overseas.

It gives you the training, confidence and recognition you need to be a successful English language teacher.

CELTA, Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages, is developed and produced by University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations (Cambridge ESOL) – a department of the University of Cambridge with an international reputation for excellence in language learning and teaching.

Give your career the CELTA advantage

There are many teacher training courses to choose from, but you need to make sure you have a qualification that offers you:

- an internationally recognised teaching certificate

Thousands of language schools, colleges, universities and teaching organisations around the world ask for CELTA when recruiting teachers, making it easier to get a teaching job anywhere.

- high-quality training

Taking CELTA gives you confidence to teach. The course involves observing lessons and hands-on teaching practice. Training is delivered at Cambridge-authorised teaching centres.

- flexible study choices

CELTA can be taken as either a combination of online and face-to-face learning or a 100% face-to-face course (full-time or part-time) so you can study in a way that suits you.

- a lifelong career

Teaching English can take you around the world, but the UK also offers many opportunities for a lifelong career in teaching. CELTA is accredited by Ofqual, the UK exams regulator, and is included in national and international qualifications frameworks for teachers.

Steps to take a CELTA course:

Decide if you want to take a combination of face-to-face and collaborative online study (Cambridge CELTA Course Online) or a 100% face-to-face CELTA course.

Find a CELTA centre – there are more than 300 worldwide including over 100 in the UK and Ireland.

Contact your centre. They will tell you when courses are starting, how much they cost and how to enrol.
